The first count of noses with regard to the Lorimer case is likely to come when a motion is made to recommit to the Committee on Privileges and Elections the report submitted to the Senate prior to the holiday recess. It seems now that the motion will be defeated. Senator Borah and the Republican insurgents are against this course, believing it will result in long delay and nonaction at this ression of Congress.

It is understood that the members of the Committee on Privileges and Elections are opposed to recommittal, because they do not wish tacitly to admit that they have failed in the investigation that they made. Senator Lorimer and his friends are said to be opposed to the plan to refer the matter back to the committee Senator Boron, of Georgia, is one who favors recomitai.
